

Worcester School is a small, family-owned centre specialising in tailor-made one-to-one communication skills training, delivered in English, and set in a native English environment. It is run by Rick and Sue Johns who have over 30 years' experience in providing quality training programmes to adults.

Immerse yourself in a native English environment

The school is based in our very own business centre for small start-ups and more established companies, which means that you will be mixing with native English speakers during your stay. We don't offer you an international experience, we offer you an English experience!

And no teenagers! Our clients are all mature adults - typically aged 30-65 years so you can feel comfortable with people of your own age.

Accommodation options include our wonderful executive homestays with your own private bathroom as well as a choice of city centre hotels. You are welcome to find your own if you prefer.

We are easy to get to in the centre of England

We are located in the city of Worcester just 2 hours from London by direct train. The population is 90,000 so it's big enough to have all the well known shops but small enough to get to know easily.

Being centrally located also means it's easy to day trip to famous places such as Manchester, Birmingham, Oxford, Bath and London. And Wales is just 30km to the west. Great for your free time!
